Italy's entrance into the war is said to have necessitated this step.

Geneva, May, 27— Italian troops which have invaded Austria along a line near the border, running north of the Gulf of Trieste, continue to advance toward the Isonzo river at three points, forcing the Austrians to retire. Apparently the Austrians thus far have made no determined resistance.

The Italian captured 200 prisoners Casualties on both sides have been slight. ....

SUSPECTED OF MURDER.

Woman Alleged to Have Hastened Death of Her Mother

Philadelphia, May 27—Miss Bertha Kreider, 47 years old of 920 West Susquehanna avenue, has been placed under arrest on suspicion of having hastened the death of her mother, Mrs. Emmanuel Kreider, aged 73, at the Episcopal Hospital, last midnight Mrs. Kreider had been suffering from senility, and also a broken leg, and, according to the hospital authorities, was in an enfeebled condition. They reported to the coroner's office that the patient had died from chloroform poisoning, and Miss Kreider's arrest was ordered.

The attempt to kill Mrs. Kreider was discovered shortly after midnight by a nurse in attendance. She had left the patient for a few minutes, and Miss Kreider remained in the room. When the nurse returned, she found a pillow over the patient's head and a piece of absorbent cotton, saturated with chloroform, across her nose. Running out into the corridor, the nurse saw Miss Kreider climbing down the fire escape. Mrs. Kreider died at noon.

When placed under arrest, Miss Kreider, who is believed to be irresponsible, said to the police:

"They told me at the hospital that mother could not get better. She is in great pain, and it might be better, after all, if her sufferings were over."

With her in the boat were three classmates and two were in another nearby. The boat turned over when one of the boys arose to relieve the other at the oars. Miss Barlow sank immediately. Her companions grasped the boat and were rescued.

TO BLOW UP SNAKES.

Party of North Carolinians go Out on Unique Hunt.

Kinston, N. C., May 27.—A large party of Snow Hill men left that town a day or two ago for a place on the banks of Moccasin river bent on are a unique undertaking. They carried dynamite. One day last week negroes killed a snake or the "stinger" species so large there was not a man amongst them who could raise the creature after it had been despatched. It was a "kitten" they said to its mate, which they had seen take refuge under a stump. It was to blow up stump, "varmint" and all that they carried the dynamite.

They were satisfied that a process of beating up the brush would drive the snake under the stump if it was not already under it when they arrived. Another of the same species killed near La Grange weighed 25 pounds.

Other snake stories coming from Snow Hill include a real interesting one. One night last week during a severe electrical storm Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Edwards went up stairs in their home to close the shutters. Between flashes of lightning Mr. Edwards saw something entangled in a blind. He reached forth and grasped the "something. It was a chicken snake as large around as his arm. The chicken snake grows to tremendous proportions, but is harmless aside from being a confirmed thief. F. W. Dixon, one of Snow Hill's most prominent men, killed two of the deadly white-oak, or poplar-leaf species in his back-yard, soon afterwards.

The authorities, who have been working on the case, have been unable to ascertain how the man met his death, but the belief is that he was struck by an automobile.

An official announcement from the German war office yesterday said that Mackensen had crossed the San six miles above Peremysl, indicating that he was about to strike at the Peremysl-Lemberg railway in the rear of the fortress.

If the above report is true the Russians' line of communication has been cut and the Slav army at Peremysl is in danger of being surrounded.

REJECTS PLEAS OF OUTSIDERS.

Governor-elect Nat E. Harris, of Georgia, announces that if it should fall to his lot to render the final decision in the case of Leo M. Frank, he will deal with the matter from a purely Georgian standpoint. The Governor-elect made this statement after going through hundreds of letters written to him by persons outside of Georgia asking either pardon or commutations:

"You can just say for Nat Harris that if the matter of dealing executive clemency to the condemned man is to be considered by him, the entire outside world will not be taken into consideration one bit. It is entirely a Georgia matter, and if I am to consider the case I shall consider it altogether from a Georgia basis, with the interests of Georgia and the interests of Georgia persons at heart."

"MURDER NOTES" NOT FRANK'S

Handwriting Expert Says Conley Alone Prepared Them

Atlanta, May 27—Albert S. Osborn, a handwriting expert, submitted a report to Governor Salton today, expressing belief that Leo M. Frank had nothing to do with the "murder notes" which played an important part in his trial. In his original report Osborn had stated the notes might have been written at the suggestion of or with the collusion of Frank.

After subsequent study, however Osborn declared his conviction that James Conley, the negro who testified he wrote the notes at Frank's dictation did not have 'intelligent assistance" in preparing them.

TAFT MAKES SPEECH

Former President Denounces Leaders of American Federation of Labor

Former President William H. Taft in an address last night at the annual banquet of the National Association of Manufacturers in New York severely criticised the Clayton act and the Federal trades commission act as "detrimental to the business interest of the country," and denounced the leaders of the American Federation of Labor for exercising a "power that has become excessive and detrimental to the public weal and the good of society."

"I fully approve," said the former President, "of the principle of labor unions. But the power their leaders have acquired by the principle of combination in their organization has intoxicated them, and they have exercised a tyranny over society and over their own members that is certainly leading to a reaction and to a restraint of their great powers within proper and lawfully limits."

HAS HERSELF JAILED.

Woman in Limousine Committed for 30 Days at Her Own Request.

New York, May 27.—As a heroic method of breaking herself of the heroin habit, a well dressed, refined looking woman drove to the municipal building in a limousine and made arrangements at the department of corrections office to have herself committed to the workhouse for thirty days. A few minutes later she had been sentenced by Magistrate Marsh, in the Tombs court, and started for the island with the commitment papers in her own hand and without a guard.

She gave the name of Mrs. Bernhard Nichols, but admitted it was fictious.

"Four years ago," she said "I was given morphia solutions when ill. During my convalescence I continued their use and later became addicted to heroin. Private sanatoriums and treatments have failed me, for my will power has not been strong enough to stick until the treatment was completed. Isn't there some way that I can really be committed to a city institution, where my own wishes will be disregarded and I will have to stay until I am cured?"

WARD LINES

(Communicated.)

It is not easy, at least not feasible, to arrange ward lines so as to avoid a larger number of residents and voters in one ward than in another. This has always been the case. The General Assembly recognizes this as necessary, for it provides by law that council "shall by ordinance prescribe the number of members of its branches and reapportion the number of members of its branches and reapportion the representation of the Council among the wards, but so as to give, as far as practicable, to each branch of such equal representation in the Council thereof, or in either branch of said Council, in proportion to the population of such ward, to be governed by the last United States census, or such enumeration as may be authorized by the General Assembly; provided, however, that the population in any ward shall not exceed another as much as three thousand inhabitants."

Those familiar with our local political history know that the Third Ward was extended to the middle of Prince and Pitt Streets in order that the white vote would be sufficient to control, leaving the Fourth war as probably republican, because it was for years represented in both branches of Council by negroes. The last election in which the negro vote was cast to any extent was in 1900. The vote was as follows, white and black: First Ward, 490, Second Ward, 418, Third Ward 1253, Fourth, Ward 771. After the Constitution went onto effect in 1902, things were different and the ward lines were changed. The Third ward has increased in population because it is a residential ward. The largest vote cast in Alexandria was in the Bryan-McKinley election, 1896 campaign, when votes in excess of 3,500 were cast, much more than twice the number cast since the new constitution went into effect. However, this is a digression. We started out to discuss the ward lines. According to the assessment made by Mr. Callahan, the Commissioner of Revenue, there were 4279 males of voting age in Alexandria in March-May, 1914, as follows: In First Ward 888, Second Ward 841, Third ward 1397, Fourth ward 1152, Total 4279. In the nine squares from King—(north side) and the west side of Washington and east side of Columbus to city limits on the north there were 181 males of voting age, and in the seven squares south side of King—west side of Washington and East side of Columbus to the city limits on the south, 169 males of voting age.

Should the ward lines of the First and Second wards be extended to take in the east side of Columbus street, based upon these figures, the wards would be as follows: First ward 1057, Second ward 1022, Third ward 1216, Fourth ward 984. The increase in the fourth ward from Fairfax county twenty would be the figures in excess of 1000, and, of course, an increase in the Third ward.

This is perhaps as near as possible toward equalization unless what is termed shoe string wards are resorted to. The wards would be on straight lines. While the figures above will not give accurately the population in the wards, yet it gives an idea as to population, and a part census would only give what was to be ascertained in certain limits leaving to conjecture what was elsewhere.

The people tire of countless visits to their home and a census should be avoided, if possible. A city directory has just been published. The Commissioner of Revenue is busy calling upon people for information. The school census is now being taken, and the state assessors calling for information as to real estate. Why not give the public a respite?

SELECTS REVIEW BOARD

Robinson Moncure, Edward H. Lawler And Clinton S. Ballenger Selected by Judge Barley.

Judge Louis C. Barley, of the Corporation Court of the city of Alexandria, announced today the appointment of Hon. Robinson Moncure, Edward E. Lawler and Clinton S. Ballenger, as members of the local board of review authorized by the general assembly of Virginia in February of this year, when a special session for the purpose of revising the state tax laws was held. The board, which is an important part of the machinery for the administering of the new tax laws, will hold office for one year.

Mr. Moncure is an attorney and a former member of the House of Delegates, Mr. Ballenger is a retail merchant in West End which is now a portion of the city of Alexandria under the annexation decision, and Mr. Lawler is a well known business man, formerly a member of the City Council of Alexandria.

The board will commence the holding of sessions as soon as the commissioner of revenue turns over the assessment books and the tax returns to them. Under the law Nevell S. Greenaway, clerk of the courts of Alexandria, is secretary ex-officio of the board. The sessions will be public and notice that they will be held must be published in advance. Not less than two days' sessions nor more than 30 days' sessions can be held by the board in any year. Each member of the board will receive $4 per diem for their services and the clerk will receive $2 per day. One half of this sum is to be paid by the commonwealth and one half by the city of Alexandria.

The board will have as its principal duty the examination of all returns for taxation. They have the power to direct the commissioner of revenue to enter in the assessment roll any omited property, to correct erroneous assessments, to hear and determine complaints of taxpayers as to erroneous and excessive assessments and to review the reports of merchants and individuals as to sales, incomes, etc. The board is supposed to work in connection with the examiner of records of the judicial circuit who will advise them in reference to tax matters disclosed by him.

In announcing the names of the board of review today Judge Barley said: "The appointment of this board is one of the most important matters that has ever come before me and I have given much time to the selection of the personnel of the board. The board is granted very wide powers by the general assembly, practically the entire power of raising or lowering taxes, correcting assessments, fixing the merchants' license which is based on their sales, etc. It will do away with much red tape and when tax payers feel that their property has been erroneously assessed they will be able to appear before the board and give their reasons without having to be represented by a lawyer before the court.

"I felt that the board should be representative as far as possible of all classes of business, with all of its members familiar with real estate values. The new portion of Alexandria should be represented and this representative should be affiliated with the older portion of the city as well. To meet this latter qualification I selected Mr. Ballenger, bearing in mind, as well, that he was a retail merchant and familiar with the requirements as to merchants' licenses. Mr. Lawler, I selected because he was in the wholesale business and represented the business men of Alexandria and because of his wide experience in these matters.

"I had felt from the first that there should be a lawyer on the board and preferably one with legislative experience, and I found that these qualifications were met by Mr. Moncure who could give the board the benefit of his legislative experience in the interpretation of the law.

PERILOUS TIMES CAUSE UNION.

It has from time to time been suggested by persons of the pessimistic class that South American republics are inimical to the United States. Several years ago John Barrett delivered an interesting address in the Second Presbyterian Church in this city on South America. His statements were a revelation to many present, who had never considered the possibilities of development in the region south of this country. He dwelt especially upon Buenos Ayres, and showed the great strides made by Argentina in recent years. Mr. Barrett suggested that the day might come when the republics of South America would contend with North America for commercial supremacy upon this continent. The speaker made no forecasts concerning the possibility of a foreign nation attempting to dominate the new world.

Germany has for a long time been endeavoring to obtain a foothold in South America, especially in Brazil. The comic papers of Berlin have pictured our the Mnoroe doctrine as a scarecrow which frightens no one. But not only has the Teuton looked with longing eyes upon South America, but England has at times cast covetous eyes upon certain sections, although pretending to support the Monroe doctrine. It will be recalled that not long ago the troubles in Venezuela were augmented by British aggression and that Grover Cleveland, then President of the United States, was forced to send a message to Congress announcing that he had exhausted diplomacy with England.

No one at present can say positively which belligerent will emerge victorious from the present conflict in Europe, and that the conquering nation will become mischievous is naturally believed. Hence the time has arrived when all rivalry and petty jealousies must be waived in the interests of the entire American continent. This is realized by the Pan-American Financial Conference at its session in Washington, and the warning by the members against foreign aggression is timely. They have with one accord proclaimed "America for Americans, with a wall of inviolability that no European shall dare to penetrate". This means "Hands off" to the rest of the world.

CONTRASTED OCCUPATIONS.

While Germany is turning out implements of destruction with which fearful havoc is being made, the country has not relinquished its toy industry, and should hostilities continue throughout the year, children in the United States will be gathered around Christmas firesides amusing themselves with toys, made by Teutons, which are intended to suggest scenes in connection with the angelic visit to the shepherds near Bethlehem and the heavenly choir proclaiming "Peace on earth to men of good will." The makers of the toys will at the same time be praying for the destruction of their foes.

From the Fatherland with its millions fighting east and west arrived at Philadelphia this week a cargo to gladden the hearts of American children celebrating the birth of the Prince of Peace.

Upward of 400 cases of Christmas toys, made by the famous toyhouses of Germany, comprised the bulk of the cargo.

But the world is a paradox. During the past ten months, cathedrals have been bombarded and the effigies of saints shattered. Bombthrowers have already hovered over Venice the queen of the Adriatic, and the Cathedral of St. Mark is likely to become a target. The bronz horses which Napoleon was compelled to return, have been spared for German or Austrian bombs.

SELLING BEER ON CRUISER.

The charge that beer is being sold on the German steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm, now interned at the Norfolk Navy Yard, has attracted considerable attention in the Old Dominion, especially among prohibitionists, and some preachers in the city by the sea have called public attention to the matter. It is alleged that the steamer is now a Sunday resort where beer can be obtained, its sale being prohibited everywhere else on that day.

We have not read any answer to the charges by those engaged in dispensing malt liquors on Sunday in defiance of the laws of the State of Virginia, but suppose it is based upon the same ground taken by those in charge of arks in the Potomac river off Alexandria two years ago that the steamer is in navigable waters and that the state has no jurisdiction.

While we have no desire to raise any issue, but if those in charge of the interned steamer, realize that they are violating the spirit, if not the letter, of the laws of the commonwealth in which they are sequestered temporarily, they are making themselves cheap with their hosts. The Kronprinz Wilhelm has obtained a haven in the United States and is now under the protection of the Stars and Stripes, and it would seem that any act which is calculated to produce friction with the authorities which are guarding the vessel is to be regretted.

NEWS OF THE DAY

King Constantine, of Greece, is believed to be dying.

The steamship Dewa, now off Cape May, has fifteen cases of beri beri aboard and eight dead from the disease.

The French bark Bidart has been wrecked at Faja Grande, Azore Island. Nine men of her crew perished.

It is said that the German government has accepted the responsibility for the sinking of the Norweigan steamer America by a submarine torpedo.

William Engel, 10, of 1243 Four-and-a-Half street southwest, Washington, was drowned in the Potomac river last night when he fell off at the wharf, foot of Ninth street.

The fact that the Austrians began the war by throwing eleven bombs over the old historic city of Venice has caused a sensation throughout Italy. Four women were injured.

While sitting in the sheriff's court in Glasgow yesterday, Judge Lee asserted that the only way to deal with the men who fail to do their work on government tasks was to shoot them forwith.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Sr., the well-known society leader and wife of the former president of the Illinois Central Railway, died at her country home at Garrison, N. Y., last night, of hemorrhage of the brain.

Terrified at the prospect of again becoming a mother, Mrs. Charlotte O'Neill, of New York, yesterday strangled her baby daughter, Josephine, tried to kill her 4-year-old son, Francis, and then sent a bullet through her heart.

It is said that both German crown prince and crown princess were absent during the baptism of their infant daughter. The kaiser and empress were both present, however. It is believed that the couple are about to be divorce.

Fifty masked night riders raided the town of Graham, Green county, Ky., shortly Tuesday night, dragged several persons employed by the coal mine from their beds and beat them nearly to death. One woman was among the victims.

Edna Engel, 17 years old, worked all day Tuesday in a factory. She returned to her home just before six o'clock, and as she went into the house she was frightened by a mouse. She ran, screaming, into a field adjoining the house and fell in a faint. She never recovered consciousness, and died soon after.

"I was beaten," was the answer Richard Donovan, 60, of 920 G street southwest, Washington, gave his wife when she questioned him Tuesday about a bruise on his head. Donovan closed his lips upon further inquiry. Death, following several hours of unconsciousness, sealed his lips yesterday.

The food shortage in Mexico is becoming so acute as to give rise to a fear of wild disorder and riot throughout the republic. A food riot occurred in Monterey May 19. The populace clamored for food and attacked premises in which food was supposed to be stored. It is reported that in teh melee many lives were lost and many persons sustained injuries.

Seventy-seven passengers saved from possible death when the Holland American liner Ryndam collided yesterday with the tramp steamer Joseph J. Cueno off Nantuckett shoals lightship, were brought safely to New York last night by the battleship South Carolina, which participated in the rescue. The Ryndam was convoyed to Ambrose lightship by the battleship Texas.

Lord Buxton, British governor general of South Africa, in opening the Cape Province Municipal Congress, yesterday isad: "The sinking of the Lusitania was deliberate murder. The Kaiser and Admiral von Tirpitz were responsible for it and it certainly had no military advantage for Germany. The Kaiser has certainly aggravated his direful position by his blasphemous claims that God sanctions his devilsh acts."

Unless former Police Lieut. Charles Becker, of New York, secures a stay pending his contemplated appeal to the United States Supreme Court, he will die in the electric chair for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, during the week beginning Monday, July 12. It is possible that the fight to save the life of former police official will not be ended for two years. It is the contention of Becker's attorney hat the convicted man's constitutional rights were violated by the admission of improper evidence at his second trial. It is on this ground that teh fight will be made before the United States Supreme Court.

The contest between candidates for the presidency of the Virginia Federation of Labor, which will be convened in twentieth anunal session a t Fredericksburg, June 7 to 9, inclusive, promises to be the most spirited in many years. Support has appeared for Howard T. Colvin, the present secretary, who is the editor of the Square Deal, the official organ of the Virginia Federation of Labor.

Gustavus Millhiser, one of Richmond's most prominent manufacturers, died Tuesday afternoon. He was 65 years old, and had lived his entire life in this city, where he was born on March 5, 1850. At the time of his death, Mr. Millhiser was president of the Richmond Cedar Works, reputed to be the largest plant of its kind in the world, and giving employment to thousands of men. He was president, also, of the Bedford Pulp and Paper Company, one of the largest mills of its kind in the United States, and an active director in the Albemarle Paper Company.

From the several models submitted for the monument to be erected for the monument to be erected to Gene-General William Mahone, Petersburg Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, have selected the one funished by the firm of Smallwood & Deacy, architects of New York. This design provides for a granite base twenty-seven feet long and four feet in height, on the centre of which is to rest a life size figure in bronze of the general in the uniform of a major-general of the Confederate States Army.

With a municipal holiday decreed by the mayor and business generally suspended, Lynchburg yesterday honored the memory of Major John Warwick Daniel by the unveiling of a bronze statue by Sir Moses Ezekiel, upon which is mounted in sitting posture an excellent, almost perfect, likeness of the illustrious Virginian, who represented his native state for 24 years in the United States Senate. Under the ruling of John Garland Pollard, attorney general of Virginia, it will not be necessary for the City Democratic Committee to consider whether or not colored voters will be allowed to participate in the Democratic primary to be held in Norolk on August 3. When Mr. Pollard was in that city he stated that the party law daopted by the Central Committee provides that only white Democrats are entitled to vote in the Democratic primary. The city committee has no choice in the matter but is expected to carry out the party law. It is regarded as certain that State Senator John A. Lesner will be a candidate to succeed himself.

Emanuel Ross, colored, about eighteen years old, was lodged in jail Tuesday at Bowling Green, charged with killing Leo Gatewood, also colored, and about eighteen years old. Both lived near Ruther Glen, and trouble between the two started when Gatewood escorted Julia Johnson from a moving picture show. Ross followed, and shot his pistol several times, but without effect. When Gatewood got to the house of the girl, Ross also appeared and said to Gatewood that he had treated him badly. Gatewood replied: "If you want to shoot me, here I am; shoot.' Ross drew his pistol and the first ball entered Gatewood's left breast, killing him instantly.

ATTACK ON NEBRASKAN

Naval Attache of American Embassy Will Meet Steamer

London, May 27—With instructions to make a thorough investigation of the reported submarine attack upon the American steamer Nebraskan, a naval attache from the American embassy left for Liverpool to meet the steamer when she comes up the Mersey.

No further details of the alleged torpedoing of the American vessel have been received here, but the admiralty stands by its original statement that the Nebraskan was attacked by a German submarine.

New York, May 27—When the Nebraskan was struck she was hurrying to her home port for the United States Government to whom she had been chartered to carry coal from Norfolk to San Francisco.

Shipping men here were amazed when they received the news and immediately asked why a German submarine would torpedo an American vessel which was homebound and in ballast. It is admitted that she carried a war cargo to Liverpool for the Atlantic Transport Line, but it is claimed that she again became a neutral vessel when she had discharged her cargo.

Her name and nationality were painted in large letters on both sides of her hull, and it is felt that there was no justification for attack unless it was made while she was carrying a war cargo for England.

D. B. Dearborn & Co., agents of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, declined to discuss the incident until they have received full particulars. tA present their only information is that contained in a cable which arrived from Capt. J. S. Green, master of the Nebraskan. This read as follows:

"Struck either by mine or torpedoed 48 miles west of Fastnet. Amsteaming to Liverpool. Water in lower hold. None injured."

This report locates the place where the Nebraskan was struck as about 100 miles west of the spot where the Lusitania went down and well out in the Atlantic. In the opinion of captains of other vessels now in port the Nebraskan was too far at sea to have encountered a mine.

GOVERNOR WIELDS SHOVEL.

Pennsylvania Executive Sets Example on Good Roads Day.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 27.—Yesterday was Good Roads Day in Pennsylvania. Reports sent to the capital indicated that volunteers by the thousands had laid aside their own affairs for the day and had done their share in helping to improve the roads of the Commonwealth. In some districts the workers disregarded the light rain and plied shovels vigorously in the mud.

Governor Brumbaugh left the city early in the day and at Camp Hill, near here, shoveled dirt with delegations of citizens. The Governor made a little good roads speech and then toured the southern part of the State to encourage the volunteer workers.

Civic associations, motor clubs and other organizations throughout the State rendered valuable service in putting the road work on a systematic basis.

Delegations of women in many parts of the State aided by serving lunches to the workers.

WOMEN IN A FIGHT

One of the Belligerents Uses a Horsewhip Upon Her Antagonist.

Mrs. Madelin Mills, of 1720 North Twenty-second street, was fined $25 and costs by Magistrate H. S Sunday, of Henrico county, Tuesday for assaulting Mrs. Floyd Gathwright, a resident of Hanover county, who lives near Gaines' Mills and James Mills, the husband of Mrs. Mills, was fined $25 and costs for disorderly conduct on the public highway.

The occurrence took place on the Creighton Road Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Gathwright exhibited numerous wells about tahe neck and shoulders which she swore on the witness stand she received from a horsewhip wielded by Mrs. Mills. Her face was severely bruised and scratched when she appeared in court. Mrs. Gathwright brought into evidence a whip which she said belonged to her surrey and which she said Mrs. Mills had grabbed out of its holder to assault her. Mrs. Gathwright said that she was in the surrey with her two small children in the wake of another surrey containing her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Mills, and another woman. She said that she was struck in the face several times by Mrs. Mills, after which, she testified, Mrs. Mills grabbed the whip and gave her a severe horsewhipping.

Mrs. Mills, testiying in her own behalf, admitted she had assaulted Mrs. Gathwright, but denied she had struck her with the whip. It was testified by Mrs. Gathwright that Mills himself had come to her surrey, threatening to kill her if she struck Mrs. Mills.
